PLEASE ASK TO SEE OUR CHILDREN'S MENU

Famous for being one of the greatest poets and storytellers of all time, Geoffrey Chaucer was also Clerk of King's Works between 1389 and 1391. During this time, he oversaw the construction of Tower Wharf, alongside prolific master stonemason Henry Yevele. Of all Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, our favourite is the Cook's Tale. The Cook's Tale is about an apprentice chef called Perkin Reveller, who loves to eat, drink and dance as often as he possibly can
